UPLIFT OF PRICES FOLLOWS DECISION

Court's Action on Commodities Clause Has Immediate Effect on Market.

SPECULATION IS ANIMATED

Renewed Safeguards of Vested Rights Conducive to Gossip of Big Mergers.

NEW YORK, May 4.—An animated and varied speculation was carried on in the stock market to-day, and the uplift of prices was comprehensive and marked. The strength was uneven, and the movement in a few stocks overshadowed the whole market. Reading still held the most conspicuous place in the transactions, and the Supreme Court decision on the commodities clause of the Hepburn act was the continued subject of most earnest discussion. Reading had been picked as the medium for expression of feeling on this subject for months past, and its violent oscillation to-day was the index of speculative opinion, and was followed in close sympathy but in widely varying degree by the whole list.

list.
Renewed safeguards for property and Renewed safeguards for property and vested rights were inferred from the tenor of the opinion of the court in the commodities clause case, and relief from a threat of danger from the spread of legal restraint was assumed from the necessary shaping of public policy to conform to the law. The comment about the financial district construed the new permission towards holding companies as reviving the possibilities of great railroad mergers by hy a revision of the methods by which the Northern Securities Company was formed to effect the combination of the Northern Pacific, the Great Northern and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroads.

NEW YORK, May 4.—The cotion market was nervous to-day with fluctuations irregular, but with the general tendency downward and the close barely steady at a net decline of 69 10 points. The market opened steady at a decline of 468 points and spout 669 points net lower during the early session under realizing by old longs and local bear pressure, which was encourased by slightly easier cables than expected and the appearance of better weather quite generally in the South. Private wires reporting half storms and rains in parts of Arkenzaa and Missouri and the weekly weather report, which read bullishly, although it merely summarized reports a tready received from day to day during the past week, attracted some support during the middle session, and at one time May contracts sold up to 10.69 or 2 points net higher on covering, while later months COTTON MARKETS.
